

"Strike Word Prudent From Vocabulary, Do Things Audacious To The Utmost Point Of Daring," President Wilson Told Navy, Daniels Reveals America's Bold, Vigorous Policy

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson's hitherto unpublished war instructions to the officers of the Atlantic fleet, given in person on the quarter-deck of the flagship Pennsylvania on August 11, 1917, and bidding them "throw tradition to the wind," strike the word prudent from their vocabularies and "do the thing that is audacious to the utmost point of risk and daring," were made public here today by Secretary Daniels.

The president spoke as commander in chief of the navy and at a time when the German submarine menace was uncurbed. In laying the text of his remarks before the senate naval investigating committee Secretary Daniels said they showed the "bold and vigorous" policy the president had outlined for the navy.

"Do not stop to think what is prudent for a moment," the president said. "You will win by the audacity of method when you cannot win by circumspection and prudence."

"I think that there are willing ears to hear this in the American navy and the American army because that is the kind of folks we are."

"There will have to come a new tradition into a service which does not do new and audacious and successful things."

The president also expressed his dissatisfaction with progress then being made toward crushing the submarine campaign.

"We are hunting hornets all over the farm and letting the nest alone," he said. "I am willing, for my part, and I know that you are willing, because I know the stuff you are made of,—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy Great Britain and we together have to crush that nest because if we crush it the war is won."

"The British admiralty had met American suggestions with what amounted to statements that it never had been done," the president said, adding:

"And I felt like saying, 'Well, nothing was ever done so systematically as nothing is being done now.'"

"SIMS DELAYED NORTH SEA MINE BARRAGE SIX MONTHS; ATTEMPTED TO ROB U. S. OF CREDIT"

MINE PLAN STRICTLY OF AMERICAN INGENUITY

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A counter charge that establishment of the North Sea mine barrage was delayed six months because of the opposition of Rear Admiral Sims and the British admiralty was made before the senate naval investigating committee today by Secretary Daniels in presenting the second part of his reply to the officer's charges that the navy department had unnecessarily prolonged the war through failure to co-operate at first with allied naval forces.

The barrage, Mr. Daniels added, was the most effective measure that had been taken to check the submarines and was wholly an American idea.

The secretary also charged that Sims had attempted in his testimony to rob the navy of credit for this project and to give it to the British.

The plan was conceived, he said, in the bureau of ordinance at the navy department and urged on the British admiralty for six months before it was accepted. During this time Admiral Sims constantly discouraged and opposed the idea he added, and when Admiral May was sent abroad and finally convinced the admiralty of the worth of the scheme and the necessity for adopting it, Admiral Sims attempted to convey the impression that the project had been delayed while the British attempted to get the American navy department's approval.

"Admiral Sims attempted to rob America and the United States navy of the credit for initiating this great achievement and to give you the impression that it was a British plan, which our navy merely assisted in carrying out though it originated in the navy department, was proposed and urged by us for half a year before we could induce the British admiralty to approve it and although four-fifths of it was composed of American mines, designed and constructed in America and transported 3,400 miles overseas and laid by American vessels," Mr. Daniels told the committee.

"Republican Plan To End State Of War By Joint Resolution Would Bring Dishonor On Nation"

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Opening the fight against the Republican plan to end the state of war by joint resolution of congress, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a Republican member of the senate foreign relations committee, declared in the senate today that such a step would bring dishonor upon the nation as it would involve desertion of America's associates in the war.

The senator said he could support neither the house peace resolution nor the substitute of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania. He advocated instead his resolution proposing restoration of commercial relations with Germany, but said he realized that it would be useless to press this measure "where the lines of division between the two factions in this body have been cemented by partisanship and set and hardened by time."

"The majority on this side of the chamber," he declared, "purposes to force the acceptance of the resolutions adopted by the senate without the chance of a single word or letter."

"The minority on the other side, in obedience to the will of the president, have resolved to make the league of nations a political issue."

"This administration has made many mistakes, but all will become insignificant compared with the colossal blunder of making the president's individual and autocratic stand on the league of nations a political issue, and

Smiths Led In The Army

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Smiths made up 15 regiments in the American army, Johnsons made up 11 more, Browns 8 and Williams, Jones and Millers made up more than seven each.

Records at the bureau of war risk insurance, where the names of 3,822,122 former service men are indexed, also show that the Andersons and Davis families were represented in sufficient numbers to compose more than five regiments each, and the Wilsons, Moores and Taylors four each.

PEACE BILL IS CALLED UP IN SENATE BY LODGE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Republican resolution to declare the war with Germany and Austria at an end was called up in the senate today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, who announced that he would keep the measure continuously before the senate until a vote.

Senator Lodge said he expected a vote within a few days and added that to expedite consideration of the resolution he might ask the senate to hold longer sessions than usual.

The Republican leaders said he did not expect much debate by the Republicans, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader, said that while the Democrats expected to resist the resolution on the final vote, "he did not know of any disposition on their part to delay its consideration."

Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, then delivered a prepared address in opposition to the resolution.

Radio Compass For Air Planes

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A radio compass for airplanes, which will enable them to locate other planes accurately regardless of weather conditions has been successfully tested by navy flyers. On a recent trip of the NC-3 from Philadelphia to Pensacola, that machine and another from the Anacostia, D. C. field were equipped with the new compass.

Plan To Dissolve French Labor Federation

PARIS, May 11.—The French cabinet at a meeting today instructed Minister of Justice L'Hopital to open proceedings against the general federation of labor with a view to the dissolution of the organization which has been supporting the strike of the French railway men by calling other strikes.

Carranza Reported Standing At Bay With 4,000 Troops; Rebels Claim His Capture

EL PASO, Texas, May 11.—Conflicting reports concerning the whereabouts of President Carranza, variously reported captured, in hiding and at bay with an army of 4,000 soldiers could not be cleared up by revolutionists here, they said today.

El Paso leaders of the liberal constitutionalists said their only information was Carranza had been captured by revolutionary troops at Apizaco.

Execution of Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of the Mexican president, and General Francisco Murguía was thoroughly confirmed, they said.

The revolutionists now controlling all but three states in Mexico accomplished their coup in one month. On April 10 Sonora withdrew from the Carranza government, setting in force the elements which overthrew Carranza and sent him a fugitive from Mexico City.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The revolutionary government in Mexico will ask for immediate recognition by the American government.

A movement to this end already has been inaugurated by the revolutionary regime, which has its headquarters in the state of Sonora, where the revolution first was launched.

Permanent Occupation Of Constantinople By An Allied Force Provided In Turk Treaty

WASHINGTON, May 11.—By the Associated Press.—Permanent occupation of Constantinople, which is left under the sovereignty of the sultan, by a small international force of allied troops, is provided for in the treaty which was handed today at Paris. An official summary to the treaty has been received in Washington.

A similar international guard is provided for garrisoning on the straits as a guarantee of free passage through the Dardanelles and the sea of Marmora to ships of all nations.

An international commission of control at Constantinople, consisting of the representatives of the principal allied powers will exercise supervision over the execution of the clauses of the treaty and with the aid of the allied troops enforce its terms.

Although President Wilson suggested that part of northeastern Thrace be given Bulgaria, Greece in its entirety is awarded to Greece. Smyrna and the hinterland, extending approximately to a depth of 100 kilometers and a breadth of 200 kilometers, is given Greece under limited sovereignty, which the league of nations a plan for control of the territory and at the end of two years the population will decide by vote whether this arrangement shall be continued or whether the territory shall be annexed by Greece.

Boundaries of Mesopotamia and Palestine, the mandates over which are awarded to Great Britain and France, are similarly to France, are left to be determined by special commissions.

The Armenian settlement is left open for future negotiations and decision. No mention is made of Russia in the summary received here nor is the precise status of the international commission of control in its relation to the league of nations clearly defined.

Being an expert at making candy when a girl, she started in the business, which brought her nation-wide fame and a fortune.

Lodge Chosen Temporary Chairman

CHICAGO, May 11.—Having chosen Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, as temporary chairman of the Republican national convention opening here June 8, and the other temporary officials of the convention, the Republican national committee had only minor matters before it today on the second day of its two-day session.

Several members of the committee indicated they favored the selection of former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, as chairman. The committee agreed on the choice of Senator Lodge with the recommendation to the national convention that some one else be chosen permanent chairman.

Hearing of contests among state delegations was postponed one week to May 31, by a decision of the national executive committee upon the recommendation of Chairman Will H. Hays.

WARSHIP'S GROOMING FOR SERVICE

NEW YORK, May 11.—The dreadnaught Oklahoma and three destroyers, the Herbert, Thibault and Ellis, were taking on supplies in the Hudson river today preparatory to sailing for southern waters as soon as possible. All sailors from the fighting craft were notified last night to report for duty at 8 o'clock this morning. A contingent of 1500 marines from Philadelphia will board the Oklahoma here. Marines at the Brooklyn navy yard were drilled in campaign outfit today.

Pershing And Staff Aboard Grounded Ship

SAN JUAN, P. R., May 10.—The United States transport Northern Pacific, with General Pershing aboard, went aground at the mouth of the harbor here yesterday afternoon shortly after dropping her pilot.

On board the Northern Pacific is a full list of cabin passengers, including General Pershing's personal staff, Major General Andrew W. Brewster, Governor and Mrs. Yager, A. E. B. Stephens, members of congress from Ohio, and others.

The vessel still was hurt and fast in the night this morning. The sea was calm and all the passengers still were on board. The freight steamer Corocelia was standing by.

DOCTOR PINCH HITS FOR GIANT FLASH WHO IS FORCED TO SACRIFICE APPENDIX

Frank Frisch, the Forham flash, counted on to star at third for the Giants this year, was forced to undergo an operation for appendicitis recently and as a result will be lost to the team for many weeks. He hopes, though, to get in the game again in time to help the Giants in the final sport. He is shown above in bed at his home. The basket of fruit at his bedside was sent by his teammates.

Indications are that the P. H. S. all-around Febl and track tournament which opens this afternoon when the discus, throw, high jump and 140 yard dash are run off at Millbrook will prove quite interesting.

The race for the bronze medal, which goes to the athlete coming out with the highest number of points at the finish this afternoon, is drawing tightly around Frowine, Muller and Moritz.

Frowine still leads the list with 1160 points, while Muller is close on his heels with 465 points, a slight difference of 130 points, which may be overcome with a victory in one event for Muller. The latter cut down the lead of Frowine 1060 points since yesterday. Moritz is third with 317 points and stands a good chance of moving up one in the final events to-day.

Yesterday the 100 yard dash, mile run, shot put and pole vault were disposed of with Frowine capturing the high points in the 100 yard, doing it in 10.45 seconds, first time, and reaching 8 feet and 6-inches in the vault, beating the height of Muller by 3 inches.

However, the probabilities are that the race will close with Muller taking the 440 yard dash, Moritz the discus throw and Frowine or Staten going best on the high jump. Should this prediction come true, it lies between Frowine and Muller for the capture of the medal and recognition as the most prolific athlete at P. H. S., with Moritz a close second.

James Trone, P. H. S. graduate, and seven members, and Trone received 3 sophomore at Ohio University, recent votes, having the highest number cast. He was elected to the Board of Control. Local friends will learn with pleasure of the "Green and White," the college of U. P.

 (Editor.)

Before a crowd that rivaled in size any similar gathering in the history of Portsmouth, the Industrial League season was off to a glorious start, Monday evening at the Revere Athletic Grounds, when the Steel Plant aggregation, headed by Earl A. Clare, triumphed over Manager Tibbines' N. & W. team by the close-fitting score of 10 to 7.

While there were a few hitches before the game in that several minor details had to be looked after, preceding the struggle, nevertheless the delay was entirely forgotten when these two evenly matched teams got up steam and went under full headway. The game was about the most exciting that could be imagined and the spoils went to the Steel Plant because that team played the game right up to the huddle, never once faltering in its defensive tactics and ever ready to take advantage of any weakness displayed by its adversary. Eddie Donald, hero of the afternoon game was in the second, Fredlager and Porter both fared about equal and promptly substituted. Stillwell jumped back to take the ball. Goode muffed the ball. Then Donald weighed in with a safe kick, scoring a touchdown. Grize looked third. They won the game in the fourth frame. Fredlager singled to third, Porter sacrificed. Fredlager was forced at third on Stanton's roller to the base. Stillwell fanned, but Donald drove a long single to left, scoring Porter. Grize walked, but Connor flied to Timmons, who made a great turning catch.

The Draws and Exchangers will be in battle array at 6 o'clock this evening at 610 E. 10th St. This is to be a preview for Martins Concert Band. It will render several selections preceding the game and will play at intervals at the facilities are once started. No doubt another mammoth crowd will be on hand.

It is thought all prefraternity students here have attended to before the games. One thing that was truly an eye opener was the fact that the result on the football board, yet was not the same through the University of Wisconsin, real estate dealer.

After stating that he had received $100,000 for the game, the player told the score heard with a yell.

He says he wants the score heard at 10, too, and that he will gladly do this after each. The score:

11	President Dan W. Conroy, who has been one of the prime movers in the league since its inception, was on the grounds early and he could not have been derelict away until the last out had been recorded. "I am especially gratified with the appeal," said the popular president at the conclusion of the contest. "The crowd was of magnificent proportions, while the game could not have been more easily carried, nor the enthusiasm, I predict at this close, for the clubs seem to be well and evenly balanced and the players full of enthusiasm and the right kind of pep." President Conroy's optimism is shared by those who have followed the great American sport and no one can be faulted who is willing to record a disquietant note as to the success of the season.	10	0	0	0

The N. & W. boys seemed to be a little nervous and they can ascribe their defeat to this fact. Manager Thimmes! said before the game that he had a cracking club ball, but that the boys were still shy of practice. Had the Railroaders secured Wells clean support the Stetsons would have been embarrassed. The Railroaders earned both their runs and might have had more had not Wendell Staten, nimble as a fox and as cunning as well, cut in with a play that tripped the Railroaders early in the last, getting Koyser at second on a relay chuck after the latter had singled and driven in the runs. It was a wise play but Staten is pre-sent in this kind of work.

Why Teeth Glisten

Millions of them—a new method

All statements approved by high dental authorities

You see glistening teeth now wherever you look, for millions clean teeth in a new way. We offer you here a ten-day test, to show the results on your own teeth.

The fight on film

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth—the film that dims teeth and destroys them.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it, so brushing has left much of it intact. And very few people have escaped its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, which attacks 95 in 100.

Now, after years of research, a way has been found to combat it. Able authorities have amply proved its efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now urge its daily use.

And millions of people now employ it, largely by dental advice.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Two other new factors are combined with it. And this tooth paste is inaugurating a new dental era.

Free to all who ask

A ten-day test of Pepsodent is sent to all who ask. Also a book to explain the results. The method quickly proves itself.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digester of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has found a harmless activating method, so pepsin can be every day applied.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Do this for your own sake and your family's sake. Nearly everybody suffers from this film. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Wilson Outlined Bold, Vigorous Naval Policy

This is an unprecedented war, and therefore, it is a war in one sense of the word. Nobody ever before conducted a war like this and, therefore, nobody can pretend to be a professional in war like this. Here are two great navies, not to speak of the others associated with us, our own and the British, outnumbering by a very great margin the navy to which we are opposed and yet casting about for a way in which to use our superiority and our strength.

"Now, somebody has got to think this war out. Somebody has got to think out the way not only to fight the submarine but to do something different from what we are doing.

"We are hunting hornets all over the farm and letting the nest alone. None of us know how to go to the nest and crush it and get I despair of hunting hornets all over the sea when I know where the nest is and know the nest is breeding hornets as fast as I can find them. I am willing for my part and I know you are willing, because I know the stuff you are made of—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy Great Britain and we together have to crush that nest, because if we crush it the war is won. I have come here to say that I do not care where it comes from. I don't care whether it comes from the youngest officer or the oldest, but I want the officers of this navy to have the distinction of saying how this war is going to be won.

"I am willing to make any sacrifice for that. I mean any sacrifice of time or anything else. I am ready to put myself at the disposal of any officer in the navy who thinks he knows how to run this war. I will not undertake to tell you whether he does or does not, because I know that I do not, but I will undertake to put him in communication with those who can find out whether this idea will work or not. I have the authority to do that and I will do it with the greatest pleasure.

"We have got to throw tradition to the wind.

"As I have said, gentlemen, I take it for granted that nothing that I say here will be repeated and therefore I am going to say this:

"Every time we have suggested anything to the British admiralty the reply has come back that virtually amounted to this, that it had never been done that way, and I felt like saying, well, nothing was ever done as systematically as nothing is being done now."

Do you know that numbers of people are slowly starving, sinking in health and strength, because they lack an appetite? That is the case.

If you feel weak and run down, have headaches often, can't stand much exertion, never have a regular well digested meal, are despondent and "blue," constantly think a minute about your appetite, is your appetite poor or do you really eat big, hearty meals and enjoy them?

Very probably you eat very little and that is one of the main reasons for your weak, despondent, and "blue" condition. For that reason the appetite is important. For no number of an appetite, for too often considered lightly, is in reality a serious thing.

Without food you cannot live. Without enough food you feel weak and eventually your system is completely run down. The appetite brings food into the stomach. This food is digested and the nutrients taken from it are carried by the blood to the tissues and organs of the body, building them up and strengthening them. If the appetite is poor and does not bring enough food into the stomach, then neither is the beneficiary of a proposition to be submitted to the voters.

The first indication of this character is a feeling of weakness, a feeling of being run down, a feeling of being "blue." This is a warning signal that the appetite is poor and that the system is being run down.

One of the first things that can be noticed after use of Volu-Tonic is an increase in the appetite. Volu-Tonic corrects the lack of appetite that is so common in the "blue" condition. It helps digestion, builds up the blood, soothes the nerves and thus helps health in every way.

Volu-Tonic is being specially introduced in Portsmouth at Fisher and Stretch's, and all other good druggists.

SUFFERED WITH SEVERE ECZEMA

Four Years. First Arms Spread, Itching Severe. Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered from a severe case of eczema. I first noticed a slight redness on my arms, and later it spread. The itching was so severe that I scratched, and could only sleep part of the night. The inflammation was so intense that the skin was almost purple."

"This lasted for nearly four years. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after the third application the itching was less. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Ointment and at the end of a month I was healed."

(Signed) Mrs. J. E. Racliffe, California, March 29, 1919.
Try to get further trouble by using Cuticura for all other purposes.

McGhee Dies in Pennsylvania
Samuel H. McGhee died at Sunbury, Pennsylvania, and his funeral was held at Lockhaven yesterday. He leaves a wife and one son and one daughter. The widow was Maria Harbarger, sister of George W. Harbarger of Jackson.

Rev. Callahan Ill
Rev. Robert Callahan, oldest member of the Ohio conference, is very ill at his home in this city. He is a nonagenarian and was a grandson of John Hanna, whom he remembers distinctly, for in his boyhood he listened to Hanna's stories about the Revolution, in which he served as a soldier under Gen. Washington and was at the battle of Monmouth. He had served before that in the army of Gen. Lewis, which fought the battle with the Indians at Point Pleasant.

Two Transcripts for June Term
All the cases for the grand jury in the June term to date are on transcripts, both from Wellston. One is a slender charge brought by one young woman against another, alleging that she told that her employer put his hands on her breast above the low-cut front. The other is a woman's case also, in which she alleges that a certain merchant unlawfully took hold of her, and "roughly" handled her around in his store and accused her of stealing certain articles, etc.

Horton Taken Ill
Frank Horton, younger brother of Mesdames Jennie Ewing and Jacob Harrell, both of Effort, and of William H. Horton of Jackson, is seriously ill at his home in this city. His youngest sister, Miss Ada Horton, is a teacher in Colorado.

Moonshine Captured
Sheriff William G. Davis captured a bottle of moonshine whiskey Sunday night, dropped by the owner behind a dry goods box, as he was on his way toward the city prison.

Where He Was Weak
The other day, my little cousin brought home his report card marked A plus for everything except deportment. His father said, "Why, John, how does this happen? John's reply was: 'Well, but daddy, that's my hardest study.'—Exchange.

Knife Brandished, Mother And Son Cut; 3 Arrested

The cutting affair staged at the Terminal boarding house, conducted by Mrs. Charles Wallace, 222 Walnut street, East Portsmouth, yesterday afternoon, resulted in the arrest of her two sons, Oscar Wallace, 30, carpenter, and Ira Wallace, 34, shoe-worker, and Aron Cooper, 40, car repairer, who boards there.

The trio was brought to police headquarters and Cooper was later released on bond while the two brothers were held. They were all formally charged with disorderly conduct.

The prisoners refused to discuss the trouble and the police investigation disclosed but little by reason of efforts to keep the affair quiet, others at the place area refusing to tell what actually occurred. The officers did learn that the men had been drinking and it were in Cooper's room when a quarrel arose which led to a fight between the Wallace brothers. One of them pulled a knife and during the melee Oscar sustained a badly gashed hand and his mother, in trying to separate them, was cut on the wrist, though not seriously.

"U. S. ATTITUDE TOWARD MEXICO ONE OF SHAME FOR PAST SEVEN YEARS"

—SAYS EX- U. S. CONSUL GENERAL

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the Interior, and George Andrew Chamberlain, former consul-general in Mexico, testified today before the senate committee investigating Mexican affairs.

Mr. Lane declared that American oil rights in Mexico were as well founded in justice and deserved as much protection as if they had been established in Pennsylvania or California, while Mr. Chamberlain declared that the attitude of the United States toward Mexico "has been one of accumulating shame for seven years."

Mexican commercial and official life was "sustained with graft from the lowest tally clerk to the highest cabinet officer," Mr. Chamberlain said and only a policy of economic control of the country by the United States would reestablish stability.

Referring to his resignation, Chamberlain said that a self-respecting man could not continue to take the money of the United States for hopeless, purposeless service after he knew the things I was forced to learn." The president, he said, "cut the ground out from under the feet of every diplomatic and commercial agent the United States had in Mexico" by repeated statements that force would never be used in the country.

"The greatest danger now," he added, "is that the United States will be led to treat in some fashion with a real head of affairs in Mexico before we really decide to deal with the crisis."

The first step in proper policy is to embark on by the senate in refusing to confirm the nomination of another ambassador to that country.

"We ought to follow that up, Mexico because it has not been able to borrow a cent is in a sound financial situation internationally. It is the most wealthy country in natural resources. It has not been visited, which makes the trade of its last 100 years under the trade domination more alive."

"We should offer a loan sufficient to put its finances in shape, bound up with a treaty which would give us direct supervision of its economic affairs. Street Fair Not Coming

An advance man of a street fair called on Mayor Gaden Monday and made an effort to secure a permit for his company to visit the city during Fourth of July week. When the mayor told him that the fee was $100 per day the advance representative said his company would pass up the fair city.

Miss Birch Is Better

Miss May Birch, a local school teacher, who was recently stricken with paralysis while teaching her class is somewhat improved at her home on Harvard street. She is one of the city's best known teachers and her friends will be pleased to learn that she is improving.

Greatest of All Tonics Vinol

Ask any doctor if he can suggest a better tonic than the following Vinol formula.

R Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Manganese Chlorides, Calcium and Sodium Hydrophosphates, Nux, Vanilla and Wild Cherry.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

We guarantee it will build you up and make you strong or we will give you money back—at leading drug stores—look for the Vinol sign on window.

THOUGH YOU SEE WELL, YOU MAY NEED GLASSES.

Many people believe that because they see well they cannot possibly need glasses. But they can't be sure of that, and here is why—In a great many cases where the error is small, the eyes are able to overcome it, and the person sees apparently normally. But in this overcoming the error the eyes are strained, which is often reflected in many undesirable physical conditions. The thing you ought to know about your eyes is their condition.

Swift & Company Does Not Control Its Raw Material

Other industries can buy their raw materials according to need or judgment, and set a selling price. They need manufacture only what they can sell at their price.

Cotton, wool, wheat, lumber, iron, steel, and other non-perishables, can be held either by their producers or their users until needed.

But live stock comes to market every day in fluctuating quantities from scattered sources, wholly uncontrolled and at times without regard to market needs.

An immediate outlet must be found for the perishable products, at whatever price, as only a very small proportion can be stored.

No one can foresee or stipulate what they shall bring; prices must fluctuate from day to day to insure keeping the market clear.

Only the most exacting care of every detail of distribution enables Swift & Company to make the small profit from all sources of a fraction of a cent per pound, necessary for it to continue to obtain capital and maintain operations.

BIDS ARE REJECTED

Bids for the laying of water mains and installation of combination sewers in the Norwood and Tradition additions and for water mains on Spring Lane were opened yesterday by Service Director Gergens and Engineer George S. Wilhelm.

A canvass of the bids of Harper & Reed and the S. Monroe Sons company who were the only bidders developed the fact that both were above the estimates and the bids were all rejected. The work will be readvertised.

Continue Drive For Church Fund

CLEVELAND, O., May 11.—Field workers of the Interchurch World movement gathered here today as a part of the interchurch's plan to carry forward its program of interdenominational cooperation in all lines of church activity. The campaign to raise $220,000,000 which closed officially May 2, was ordered extended to July 15 at a meeting last night of the general board executive committee. Churches are to raise $220,000,000, the remainder to come from outside sources. It was estimated that $150,000,000 had been raised.

The board also voted to make the interchurch organization permanent with headquarters at New York.

The report of the industrial relations committee which includes what members declared was "the absolute truth about the steel strike" was delivered to the executive committee. A subcommittee was appointed to examine the report, which is said to contain 230,000 words. This inspection will precede its publication, according to James M. Speers, of New York, executive committee chairman.

On a question that enormous salaries were being given to interchurch world movement executives, Mr. Speers stated that the highest salary paid was $6,000 a year and that most of the leaders were serving without salary. He also reported that $9,000,000 had been spent thus far in carrying on the campaign.

Wet Plank Is Rejected

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 11.—Praising a national administration and scoring the two Republican United States senators from Illinois "for obstructing ratification of the peace treaty," Illinois democrats yesterday elected 8 delegates-at-large to the national convention without instruction, each to have one vote. The alternates named included four men and four women. Two electors at large were chosen.

A "wet" plank submitted by Anton Cermak of Chicago, former state representative, was defeated 21 to 4 in the committee on resolution.

Opposition To Hynicka

COLUMBUS, O., May 11.—Developments at the meeting of the Republican state central and advisory committees here yesterday were said to indicate opposition to the reelection of R. K. Hynicka of Cincinnati as national committeeman for Ohio.

A resolution endorsing Hynicka for reelection which was adopted by the Hamilton county committee a few days ago was presented to the state committee by Peter W. Barry and John V. Campbell, Cincinnati members, but no action was taken on it other than to place it on file. Several members of the advisory committee, including some of the women members, are understood to have indicated their opposition to Mr. Hynicka.

The date for the state convention at which the party platform will be adopted was fixed for June 20th and 21st, to be held in Memorial hall, Columbus.

Findeis Property Sold

HOWARD BOUND OVER

An important deal in realty was closed in the West End Monday when Henry and Alex Kelso purchased the Findeis property at Third and Market streets. The consideration was $10,000 and the negotiations were closed by Charles V. Wertz.

The property has a frontage of 40 feet and extends back to the alley. The three-story brick buildings were for many years occupied by the late John Findeis, one of the pioneer citizens of Portsmouth. Miss Rose Findeis who occupies a flat in the corner building will vacate it shortly having purchased a home on Seventh street. Henry and Alex Kelso stated today that they will convert the buildings into a series of modern flats.

CHILLICOTHE HAS TWO TIME CLOCK

Chillicothe is to have a two time clock. The county commissioners, meeting Monday afternoon decided upon this ingenious way of keeping all parties concerned satisfied regarding time. A new and gilded hand will be placed upon the town clock in the court house steeple, which will point to new time. Thus everyone in the city, except the devotee to sun time, will be able to look at the town clock and tell the time to suit his taste.

Police Chief Joe Distel says the dance indefinitely, in order that the ball is going to be some affair. Base-line dance will not be interested with.

Many Issues Involved In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 11.—Because national as well as state and local issues were involved and candidates to be named ranged from relatively unimportant county officials to United States senators, the Democratic state wide primary today was expected to result in the pulling of the largest vote in years. In addition to two senatorial candidates, ten were to be nominated for the house of representatives, 24 delegates to the San Francisco convention were to be chosen and a long list of state, county and local officers were on the ballot.

Senator Underwood, leader of his party in the senate, was opposed by Judge Sam D. Weaker, of Birmingham, and L. B. Musgrove, of Jasper. In the recent campaign, William J. Bryan slumped the state in advocacy of Mr. Musgrove, and this particular contest aroused much bitterness. Four candidates aspire to fill out the unexpired terms of the late Senator Bankhead. They are former Governor Emmett O'Neal, Representative J. Thomas Heflin, of the fifth district; Ray Houston of Montgomery, and former Senator Frank White of Birmingham. Mr. Bryan in the campaign also urged the defeat of Mr. O'Neal.

CUPID'S CAR

By RALPH HAMILTON

(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

"A willful, ungrateful girl!" exclaimed Miss Maria Ward, "but I would hear her, even if I break her!"

Thus to an old spinster friend, so less and crabbed as herself, and the latter voiced entire approval of the system and designs of her double primness, prejudice, and, as it were, now turning out, perfidy.

The subject of discussion was Miss Ward's niece, Drusilla North. She had been twice years of age her aunt had been her guardian, in charge of a small estate left by her father, a girl of less genteel mold would have since have resented and abandoned the strict discipline and kill-joy methods of the soured old maid. There was an innate sprightliness and optimism inherent with Drusilla, however, that sustained her mightily.

She submitted to exclusion from coveted companionship of other young people, she sat patiently in sewing circles, dreary lecture rooms and the genial meetings of a club of which Miss Ward was secretary, and which comprised all the long-haired and theorists of the district and most of the female faddists.

Meantime, Drusilla dreamed of a loved poetry, sentiment and all that was true, good and beautiful. She anticipated her twenty-first birthday when the ban would be lifted and she could enter into real life and joyousness. Then one day she met Mr. Theagar on her way to a town miles distant, whither she was weekly to carry messages and calls to an incapacitated old lady friend, her aunt.

Tin Miners Have Privileges.

The men who work in the Cornish mines are a class by themselves and all their differences are adjusted by the stannary courts, as they are called from the Latin word stannum, meaning tin. These curious courts have existed in their present form since the middle of the thirteenth century, and, in a simpler form, much earlier, and the miners claim to be free from all other jurisdiction, "except in matters affecting the land, life and limb."

Nurse calling time on Frank Frisch's pain.

Frank Frisch, the Forham flash, counted on to star at third for the Giants this year, was forced to undergo an operation for appendicitis early and as a result will be lost to the team for some time. He hopes, though, to get in the game as soon as he can to help the Giants in the season. He is shown above in bed at his home. The basket of fruit at bedside was sent by his teammates.

OPPOSE OVERALL FAD

INCIDENT to the Overall fad, which has been sweeping over the country, and which has already been condemned by The Times editorially as both senseless and an economic crime, The Times is handed by Lehman Brothers a letter from one of the biggest firms in the country manufacturing overalls, taking strong ground against the fad. The letter says in part:

"We are in the midst of an overall craze. It may or may not have hit your section. Bankers, clergymen, lawyers and even senators are allowing themselves to be carried away with the fad. They are undoubtedly moved by good motives. But they do not understand the situation.

"Denims are extremely hard to get. It is impossible even now for overall manufacturers to deliver all of their orders promptly. And in buying overalls unnecessarily for general wear, these faddists are draining a market that is already low.

Overalls are essentially work clothes. As work clothing they are a necessity to certain classes of workers. The price of overalls, like the price of everything else, depends absolutely on the law of supply and demand. Unless this overall craze is stopped it must eventually result in higher prices for overalls.

You will benefit temporarily from this craze. So will we. But, because the movement is wrong and cannot possibly result in good for those who actually need overalls, we are asking your co-operation in halting the fad. In fairness to those who are our logical customers we should do everything in our power to stop a movement such as this.

"You know that we have no ulterior motive in making this suggestion. As overall manufacturers we might naturally be expected to welcome any movement that would increase the demand for our product. But in fairness to the man who must wear overalls we feel that it is our duty to take a stand against the overall fad and to enlist the help of others, particularly our dealers, against the craze."

IT IS JUST OUR WAY

THE Duchess of Clermont-Tonnerre, a French literary character, has visited the United States and has written a book on us, which they all do.

Like all of our distinguished critics, except when they come to entice money out of us, she finds much of us that is faulty and little, if anything, that is admirable.

Her chief complaint is that we neither know how to cook, nor to eat. On our tables we have nothing that is edible except red bananas—who ever heard of 'em over here—California apples and "hams of Virginia." The necessity of eating she remarks, has become for Americans a monotonous and obligatory annoyance they bend all their energies to simplifying the performance, calling "a meal," the action of bolting down a sandwich in five or six bites, while standing before a luncheon bar. Altogether it is beyond her comprehension that Americans require less time to order and dispose of his entire luncheon while a Frenchman is looking over the wine list.

It might not be so utterly incomprehensible to the lady, if she understood that Americans eat to live and do not live to eat, and they are people who get up and dust, while others are jabbering around about what it all means. We are that sort that, after four months' training put boys in the trenches, who taught veterans of twenty years of training and four of battle, how to fight and win victories.

As for our attainment in the culinary art, that's another matter, of which the Duchess got the worst end of it, seeing that her gastronomic experience was confined to lunch counters, not luncheon bars, dear lady. Luncheons are known only in our high society functions and bars, well, why recall sad memories. At, or rather for, the lunch counters the cooking is done by a rude maid, whose accomplishments must be in the way of speed rather than of artistry. He isn't expected to do anything more than will "hold" the customer's stomach until he goes home for a square meal. And when the latter does that is what he gets. Not compounds of fanciful name and short calorie, but broiled steak, roast pork, may be backbone or spareribs, with trimmings, then pie, or better yet ice cream and cake, or sublimity, strawberries with oceans of cream and mountains of sugar, assembled by mother's or wife's hands, and it hits him where he lives and eating becomes worth while, though let it be confessed as the national fault, he doesn't waste much time in the discussion of the delectables, to appropriate from the society columns, but soon has his nose buried in the afternoon papers.

Sometimes a distinction is not relished. There is Spokane, which is much depressed because, so far, she is the only city in the country above 100,000 to show a decrease in population.

Observing the countless automobiles standing and running about in all parts of the city, the wonder grows that accidents, and serious ones at that, are not more frequent than they are.

About the most common word in usage these days is strike.

One month from today, the Republican national convention will assemble in Chicago and then we will have another inundation of predictions that are valuable chiefly because they will not come true.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

MORE ABOUT THE REUNION

Then there was Joy Deans—merci est child that ever wedded a truer or truer the fantastic tale of an Academy ball—she up and fell in love with a traveling actor, and fell in love with a sort of a tragedy, don't you know? Joy is now seeing the world. America first—one day she lays her head upon a pillow in Kansas City, and another finds her quite at home on another pillow in Kalamazoo. Maybe she was seeking for variety. If so, it's all right. If not, I'll say it's rough!

Of course the girls had heard vaguely of my engagement, and I was congratulated and condoned with, all in one breath. When they heard that Jack was a business man there were several shrieks of derision, of course, but I was undaunted.

I was the only involved girl in the crowd, save one, Margot, who it seems is on the ragged edge herself. There are three adoring swains dancing attendance on her, and she does not seem to be able to make up her mind. Which makes me think that she doesn't want any of them very badly.

Little Dulecia Jones indicated that she was engaged for three whole weeks, but had fallen out with her lover and now they were the best friends ever. They had come to some sort of an understanding. I suppose, in which they discovered, mutually, that matrimony could never figure largely in their lives. Dulecia has been doing some stunning decorations lately, by the way. Several of her panels have been exhibited and she is on the road to fame, or I miss my bet. She certainly possesses a strong character to have been able to withstand the blandishments of so many of the members of the opposite sex for so long. But when Dulecia is like that—self-sufficient.

Several other girls have received scholarships, and are now studying art in Paris. More power to them. After the grandest sort of gossip, we finally decided to descend in a body upon a pal of ours, who has a studio on Eighteenth street, and to the pleasing tune of our own giggles we filed out of the restaurant and made our way slowly towards Olga's. Goodness me, it took us nearly an hour to get there, for there were so many old landmarks to stop and gaze at, and so many new things to stare at, and laugh at, you've no idea. All the way down Market street we kept discovering weird signs that sent us into convulsions of mirth. Once when we came to a movie palace that in the past we had been wont to frequent, we stopped again and filed in. But either we or the times, or maybe the atmosphere had changed, for nothing struck our fancy, and we left after a few minutes.

By the time we arrived at Olga's place it was quite late. The dear child was never looking for our appearance, for she was closely entwined in the arms of a dark, foreign looking man, when we, in a body (and familiarly as of old), marched into her studio unannounced. Olga gave one short shriek and managed to straighten her face, as we descended upon her corner of the room. As for the young man, well he was most comported. When Olga caught sight of me she hugged the breath out of my body, and it was a grand reunion in every way.

A little maneuvering on the telephone brought some of the good souls hurrying down. Johnny Stewart, a member of the Canadian army and now a gentleman, and a young reporter on "The Press," Lady Baker, and other choice spirits.

BILLY WHISKERS

Ahead of them, as Day and Night have seen displayed in any of the Turkish or Armenian shops in large cities.

The kids were walking peacefully along, taking in the sights, when a big yellow dog made a snap at Day's leg and drew blood. She blurted with pain and ran into the nearest shop for protection. The man who owned the shop was asleep on a pile of rug and did not see her enter, so she slipped behind a rug that was hanging on the wall and stood as still as a mouse, so the dog could not find her if he came in. While hiding there, she heard a most terrible row going on outside. Between the howling and barking of the dogs, she could hear Night's deep "bah," which meant he was angry; and after each "bah" she heard a terrified howl, she knew Night must be doing more blood-work. If not killing the dogs outright. Few dogs are a match for a goat in a fight, especially one as quick and with such needle-like horns as Night had. They would pierce a dog's side like a sword.

The noise outside awoke the Turk who was asleep in the shop and he went out to see the fight. While he was gone the string of beads which fell over her head onto her neck, and she could not get them off. While she was trying to tear them off she heard Night call, "Come on Day, the dogs are all dead," and she ran out of the shop with all the strings of colored beads hanging around her neck, and she came away with Night. When the Turk saw her he nearly fell into a fit from anger at seeing a goat run off with coral, pearl and turquoise beads and he had to chase after them but he never just as well have tried to catch the tail of a comet as to catch those two kids. (Tomorrow the kids leave Constantinople for—guess where?)

When they came out of the park they entered a street filled with little shops in which various articles for sale were displayed on a counter, or hung from a pole that ran above the counter the whole length of the shop. On this pole were strings of beads of all colors and sizes, lace scarfs, handkerchiefs, jeweled lamps, and all the

Barnum Knew People

A friend who used to be in the show business with P. T. Barnum told me how the latter once solved the problem of getting his audience to circulate through his tent. More than a thousand people were waiting to get in one time, while the crowd inside showed not the slightest inclination to move. Finally Barnum had a large sign painted and hung at the exit of the tent. The sign read: "This way to the Express." The crowd rushed for the opening and found themselves outside.

In one of the public schools the teacher was reading a story about the Blue Jay, and there was something about the faults of the bird.

"What are the faults of the bird?" the teacher asked.

Nobody answered. To encourage the children the teacher said:

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY D. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 11.—There is a depressing luxury—a sort of After-the-Deluge sort of feeling about those stately mansions devoted to outfitting Midway along Fifth Avenue. They bear the French names for Paris is still the arbiter of elegance in women's fashions. There is a cold formality, a brooding silence, about them that makes you feel instinctively that if you haven't any money, well, you needn't come around.

I have never seen them at all busy. Junco-like saleswomen stand around in little groups gossiping. One imagines they look forward to those society teas, pondering to scandal. The floorwalker, a malicious person, bows with proper reserve. Who knows but that he may be loving to the working class. That would be less majestic.

After the sale the saleswoman will inquire: "The charge account, please?" If one hasn't a charge account there is a lifting of the eyebrow. Perhaps a supercilious glance. It seems so vulgar, so bourgeois, to pay in cash. People up in Harlem and Brown's section deal in that old style middle class way. And one must not ask the price. Indeed that is just the same as advertising that you do not care to be placed.

An Eloquent Letter

A certain soldier and his buddy had waited many days for letters that did not come. Finally one of them did receive a letter. He opened it in the presence of the other, who watched him anxiously. In the envelope there was nothing but a sheet of writing paper, blank on both sides. The one who had received the letter observed: "Well, you haven't anything on me. That's not a letter."

"Sure it is," the other asserted. "It's a letter from my wife. We're not speaking to each other."—Harper's Magazine.

Stunned

"If labor persists in its arrogance," said the town man, "the time will come when the hired man who does a full and honest day's work will be denounced as a traitor by his class."

"The hired man who does—good work!"—what?" astoundedly yelled Farmer Bentover.—Kansas City Star.

Had Some Sense Anyway

A New York sheriff is telling a story about being down at the insane asylum on business the other day. He happened to look at the clock in an office and found it was an hour slow.

"That clock isn't right," he said. "No," replied one of the inmates. "If it was right it wouldn't be here."

Bolling Tin Cans

After trying many other processes of recovering tin from old cans, there is now, according to La Nature, a return to the old-fashioned method of bolting the scraps (well cleaned) in a solution containing an excess of free alkali and saltpeter. The tin is recovered as crystals of sennate of soda, and the alkali and saltpeter can be used over and over again.

"U. S. ATTITUDE TOWARD MEXICO ONE OF SHAME FOR PAST SEVEN YEARS"

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the Interior, and George Andrew Chamberlain, former consul general in Mexico, testified today before the senate committee investigating Mexican affairs.

Mr. Lane declared that American oil rights in Mexico were as well founded in justice and deserved as much protection as if they had been established in Pennsylvania or California, while Mr. Chamberlain declared that the attitude of the United States toward Mexico "has been one of accumulating shame for seven years."

Mexican commercial and official life was "sustained with graft from the lowest tally clerk to the highest cabinet officer," Mr. Chamberlain said and only a policy of economic control of the country by the United States would reestablish stability.

Referring to his resignation, Chamberlain said that a self-respecting man could not continue to take the money of the United States for hopeless, purposeless service after he knew the things I was forced to learn.

"The greatest danger now," he added, "is that the United States will be led to treat in some fashion with a new head of affairs in Mexico before we really decide to deal with the crisis. The first step in proper policy is that embarked on by the senate in refusing to confirm the nomination of another ambassador to that country."

"We ought to follow that up, Mexico—because it has not been able to borrow a cent—is in a sound financial situation internationally. It is the most wealthy country in natural resources I have ever visited, which makes the tragedy of its last 100 years under self-determination more plain. We should offer a loan sufficient to put its finances in shape, found up with a treaty which would give us direct supervision of its economic affairs. The second step should be to withdraw the present recognition unless that was accepted. Still failing

CARRANZA BREAKS THRU THE CORDON

WASHINGTON, May 11.—With practically all of Mexico dominated by revolutionists and Carranza reported a prisoner, official interests here shifted today from the military phases of the situation to the expected political developments. Agents of the de facto rulers professed to believe steps would be taken immediately to ward off the establishment of provisional government, to be succeeded as soon as possible by a constitutional regime.

Reports received through official channels, as well as those sent to the revolutionary agents continued to indicate absence of serious disorders although the despatch of a battleship and additional destroyers to southern waters suggested the determination of this government to afford the foreigner protection in the event of serious trouble at any of the port towns.

Revolution Believed Successful

While officials here considered the revolutionary movement as too untidy for judgment the impression was manifest that for a time at least it would not have to face the usual counter revolution. Villa, who defied Carranza so successfully, was reported to have made peace with the winner, Manuel Pineda, ruler of the oil regions, was said to have joined in the movement without reservation, and there remains an outstanding rebellion figure. The possibility, however, that some one of Carranza's local officers might fill the role of rebel was suggested, although revolutionary agents asserted its improbability.

What appeared for a time to be a potential discord was the recent declaration of General Pablo Gonzalez, that while he was fighting Carranza, he had not agreed to support the general revolutionary movement. Both official and unofficial reports, however, have indicated either an understanding between him and Alvaro Obregon, or the domination of Gonzalez by Obregon. Gonzalez was the first to enter Mexico City, but recent reports pointed to Obregon as the dominant figure.

CARRANZA AT RAY

VERA CRUZ, May 9.—President Carranza, whose train was stopped at Apizaco by revolutionary forces on Saturday, has succeeded in breaking through the rebel lines and has come 20 miles nearer, this city, according to dispatches.

Latest reports received here indicate he is standing at bay with 4,000 men about 27 miles northeast of Puebla. Rebel troops commanded by Generals Hill and Trevino are closing in on him there.

CLEVELAND, O., May 11.—Freight traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad was at a standstill here today as the result of the failure of the 200 yardmen and conductors to report when called last night. H. E. Newcomer, superintendent, could assign no reason. Passenger service was not affected.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Stocks were quiet and irregular at the opening of today's session, denoting further confusion of speculative sentiment.

Shipments, rails and sugars were disposed to improve, but coppers and textiles exact with popular stocks. The general list became reactionary with the first half hour, however, when pressure against steel and motors became more insistent.
